Parents and children will recognise several of the themes of the maze. Mazes teach young children how to think about potential outcomes and how to think ahead. With the special wipe-clean paper, children can start over as many times as they need. Once they feel confident, they can try the giant poster and challenge themselves.

As a huge bonus, this series also comes along with additional video games... a reward for finishing the mazes. The game is a giant maze with calming music and children can choose their character.
