Funny is a caterpillar and a dreamer. The other night, she dreamt she was climbing to the top of the mountain. Without a second thought, she decided to make her dream come true.

Along the way she bumped into Mr. Frog, who laughed and said, "Don't even think about it! I am a very agile frog and so can jump and reach the summit of the mountain but you, a caterpillar who crawls so slowly, it's crazy! He went away jumping and bloated like a frog."

Lucky is an expert gardener. She analyses the soil in the flowerpot. "Mmm, this soil is very hard. That's why your roots can't nourish you properly. I can help you. Will you let me into your house?" And without waiting for an answer, Lucky goes underground.

She works without rest, digging tunnels and masses of underground paths so that water and air can reach every corner of the pot.

One day in the month of June, Rosty woke up startled. Peter, the neighborhood kid in school, was ringing the bell over and over again. To wake up Rosty who was sleeping like a log.

He got scared and therefore fell about on the floor. "I'm sorry Rosty," Peter said. "I didn't mean to scare you but we need your help at school. Peter got Rosty in his pocket so that no one could see him and showed him what was going on."

A unique series of 4 titles that recounts the adventures of 4 little animals in their day-to-day life. Amazingly illustrated, these stories are not only really cute but also reveal the usefulness of small animals in nature!
