A brand new title on the current universal topic to extend our bestselling 'Atlas' series! Through simple and educational texts and images, children will easily understand various climate-related concerns. Factual but designed in a positive state of mind, it also shows tangible tips and inspiring actions already taken by children to preserve the planet. This title will let young readers discover they can actually do something within their own capacities.

Based on the same successful concept as the previous titles in this series, it includes detailed maps, fascinating and colourful illustrations, plenty of stickers and a large poster-map as a bonus. A mix of smart and fun activities to better understand and appreciate this challenging subject.
