DOG HOME

1. What animal do dogs descend from?
a) Prairie dogs.
b) Werewolves.
c) Coyotes.
d) Wolves.

2. Why does a dog stick its tongue out?
a) Because it is hungry.
b) Because it is badly trained.
c) Because it is hot.
d) Because it is tired.

Answers

1. d) It may be a surprise to hear that the wolf is the ancestor of all dogs. Some dogs – a Yorkshire terrier, for example – might not look much like a wolf, but they descend from it all the same.

2. c) Yes, when they are hot, dogs stick their tongues out to make contact with the air. This cools them down and lowers their body temperature.

Boy, is it hot today!

PARROT RAINFOREST

1. What do parrots use their curved beak for?
a) Nothing – and it's not even a very pretty beak!
b) To dig burrows in the ground.
c) To crack nuts.
d) To help them breathe.

2. Parrots have a special skill – do you know what it is?
a) They can cook their food in the sun.
b) They can talk.
c) They can thread a needle.
d) They can swim 100 metres underwater.

Answers

1. c) That's right, the parrot's strong curved beak lets it crack the nuts it so loves to eat.

Mind your fingers!

2. b) Parrots can talk, of course! In fact, they can copy all sorts of sounds, so they can also bark, meow or imitate the doorbell ringing!
